

ROOSEVELT SPEAKS AT GETTYSBURG ON SPOT WHERE LINCOLN STOOD 42 YEARS AGO.

Gettysburg, Pa., May 28.—Standing at the spot where Abraham Lincoln delivered his famous address 42 years ago, Col. Theodore Roosevelt spoke of the encounter between the north and the south which reached its crisis here and found in the deeds of the past times which he applied to the present day.

THOUSANDS OF CIVIL WAR VETERANS THERE

Col. Roosevelt came here from Oyster Bay to fulfill a promise which he made several months ago to the veterans of the Civil War. He was accompanied by his family and a large number of friends. The veterans of the Civil War, who are estimated at 20,000 persons, are gathered here for the purpose of attending the annual convention of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Col. Roosevelt went over the battlefield with Warren G. Harding, chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. The veterans of the civil war, said Col. Roosevelt, in his address at the national cemetery, "not only left us a United country, but they also left us a legacy of the memories of valorous self-sacrifice shown in the civil war, but also by their careers and their attitude in the war and after the war, have taught us lessons which we should apply to our conduct in the civil war, the war they showed that mixture of intense and lofty idealism with sound, practical common sense which is essential to the nation's success in peace as in war."

Col. Roosevelt also said that the prime necessity of this nation are that our people show both a lofty idealism in insisting on the rule of justice and a practical common sense in recognizing that we must secure material prosperity and that so far from being an end in itself, the material prosperity is a means to the development of both a good mind and a good heart.

"Our protest must be against utter inequality of wealth, against a reward that comes to privilege instead of service, and of course especially against all reward that comes to the few instead of the many. It is against the wrong-doing in violation of the eternal laws that under right from wrong. If we remain true to these laws, there are great evils that will be done to us and to our country, and we must work with all our heart and soul and mind to secure the best of all possible conditions for ourselves in the future. We shall no less prepare disaster for ourselves if we fail to work with all our heart and mind of spirit toward all our fellow citizens, with malice toward none, with charity to all, and with a firm belief in the ultimate triumph of right, we will be able to secure for ourselves the best of all possible conditions for ourselves in the future. We shall no less prepare disaster for ourselves if we fail to work with all our heart and mind of spirit toward all our fellow citizens, with malice toward none, with charity to all, and with a firm belief in the ultimate triumph of right, we will be able to secure for ourselves the best of all possible conditions for ourselves in the future."

DISCUSSION WILL PRECEDE THE VOTE—SENATOR KERN TO LEAD IN THE DEBATE.

LORIMER SAYS HE WILL NOT RESIGN

Washington, D. C., May 30.—The Lorimer election case will be brought up in the senate next Monday, immediately after the routine morning business. Senator Kern, of Indiana, for the minority, who holds that corrupt practices were used in bringing about Mr. Lorimer's election, today made an announcement to the senate. All efforts of friends to induce senator Lorimer to resign have proved futile. Mr. Lorimer has decided to stand by his record.

Members of the bar who practiced before Judge Robert W. Archbald, of the court of common pleas, yesterday contributed $10 or $25, he could not remember which, at the solicitation of J. W. Searle, clerk of Judge Archbald's court.

That Judge Archbald received the money, Lanham was convinced. He said he received a letter from the judge from Europe thanking him for his contribution.

Col. Roosevelt also said that the prime necessity of this nation are that our people show both a lofty idealism in insisting on the rule of justice and a practical common sense in recognizing that we must secure material prosperity and that so far from being an end in itself, the material prosperity is a means to the development of both a good mind and a good heart.

MYSTEROUS TRAIN GETS TO JUAZUEZ

Soldiers Meet It and Three Men Are Whisked from It Into an Auto.

Train service on the Mexican Central railroad between Juarez and Chihuahua is being run in a mysterious manner. Wednesday night the train which was to have arrived in Juarez was reported from Chihuahua to have been annulled, and then at 1 o'clock Thursday morning the train pulled in at the station in Juarez.

When the train pulled into the station at 1 o'clock Thursday morning there was a guard of soldiers at the station who kept a strict guard about the train. All efforts of civilians to go to the train were prevented by the soldiers, who seemed to be on guard.

The belief in Juarez is that one of the three unknown men was Gonzalo Enrique, who some time ago issued the anti-American manifesto in El Paso and later, after being one of the chief advisers of Orozco, was stabbed. It is believed that Enrique has not been able to secure efficient treatment for his wounds in Chihuahua, and that there is danger of blood poisoning setting in.

Col. Pascual Orozco said that the train had been used to transport soldiers along the line to protect the bridges against the roving bands who are known to be operating in the Chihuahua section, and who might wish to destroy them. He did not know anything of the reported arrival of Enrique on the train.

FEVER CLAIMS WILBUR WRIGHT. HIS INVENTION ONE OF THE GREATEST OF MODERN TIMES.

STARTED WHEN A BOY TO INVENT BIPLANE

Dayton, O., May 30.—Wilbur Wright, the noted aviator, died early this morning of typhoid fever. He had been ill for several weeks and a number of times had been reported at the point of death, but each time rallied.

Following a sinking spell that developed soon after midnight, Mr. Wright died at 3:15 today. He had been near death for many days and though his condition from time to time gave some hope to members of his family, the attending physicians, Dr. D. B. Conklin and Levi Spiller, maintained throughout the latter part of his sickness that he would not recover.

He was surrounded by the members of his family, which included his aged mother, Milton Wright, Miss Catherine Wright, Orville, the co-inventor of the aeroplane, Reuchlin Wright, and his wife, and his sister, Katharine. "Delia, I told you to iron my skirt first."

"No answer."

"Didn't you understand me, Delia, when I said to iron my skirt?"

"I had to iron this 'fore it got dried,' said Delia. "You could have sprinkled it again. Now finish that as quickly as you can, and iron my skirt." Helen's voice was unusually harsh.

UNCLE SAM EXPECTS GUERRILLA WARFARE

Havana, Cuba, May 30.—The capital still awaits with keen expectancy news of decisive fighting in the western section of Oriente province, where the national and insurgent forces have been face to face for several days.

Up to the present there have been only trifling skirmishes by the outposts and occasional raids by the rebels on small towns, and confirmation has been received of previous reports that some small squads of rurales have been captured.

The great majority of the negro population is loyal to the government and remains loyal to the government. The whites and blacks are now standing in an attitude of hostility. Many thousands negro citizens bitterly denounce the uprising, and are anxious to lend support to the government.

The inactivity of the national forces is due to orders issued by the commander in chief, general Montenegro, that a general forward movement was not to be undertaken until his arrival with reinforcements.

CRUISER ARRIVES AT SANTIAGO

LARGEST FLOOD STAGE IN COUNTY ROAD IS COVERED IN SEVERAL PLACES NORTH OF EL PASO AND PART OF SMELTER SETTLEMENT UNDER WATER.

Santa Fe Road Temporarily Out of Business and the Street Car Track to the Smelter Is Threatened by the Rising Flood.

Engineers say that the crest of the flood has not yet reached El Paso and that the river will probably rise to a point estimated at 15,000 cubic feet of water per second at El Paso. The morning report from San Marcel Thursday said that the discharge there was 16,000 second feet, an increase of 1310 second feet since Wednesday at that point. The only alarming indication was at Elephant Butte, where engineer W. M. Reed, of the reclamation service, is now making an inspection tour.

No reading was made at the Courchesne gaging station of the international boundary commission Thursday, but engineer W. W. Follett, in charge of the office, estimates that there was an increase of 1000 cubic feet at El Paso, and says that the river is holding right up and is probably discharging 13,000 cubic feet of water per second here now.

The river has completely cut off communication with the west side by means of the Courchesne bridge. The flood is threatening to cut a new channel on the east end of the bridge and, if sufficient driftwood catches on the bridge supports to help hold the water through this new channel, the bridge is likely to be left high and dry when the flood season is over.

ROAD CROSSED SEVERAL PLACES

The county road is covered by water in several other places north of Courchesne besides the one where the river broke over Wednesday. Near White's Spur the road is covered and last night a wagon, the driver unable to locate the grade beneath the water, slid off the embankment and tipped its load into the water and mud.

SMELTER CAR LINE IN DANGER

The water is within a foot of running over the smelter street car track for a considerable distance between old Fort Bliss and the smelter pump house. The raised, outward bound, there is some water already on the track. A force of men was set to work this morning repairing the embankment on which the street car line is built. Heavy stones are being piled along the bank at the weak spots.

REBEL PROTESTS MAY BE WITHHELD FROM THE MEXICANS NOT BE PUBLISHED

Juarez, Mexico, May 30.—Opposition by the conservative element at general headquarters of the revolutionists has prevented the publication of the protest made to the American and Mexican governments in which it was hinted that the authorities might find themselves unable to restrain the lawless elements in their attacks upon foreigners once this element realized how great was the assistance being given the movement of Mexican federal troops on American soil.

The document may not be published at all but if it does appear in print it will be in a materially amended form. American consul W. E. R. held a conference with the officials regarding the protest. The document was published in which it was stated that the federal army was near enough to the border to be able to cross it at any time.

The Santa Fe continues to divert its passenger and manifest freight business over the Southern Pacific to El Paso and from there over its own line because of the washout on the Rio Grande division. Reports from Vado, Mesquite and other points along the Santa Fe line show that the water is at least six inches higher at these points. General manager F. C. Fox and general superintendent J. M. Horn, with division superintendent J. H. R. and division engineer J. H. R. are in personal charge of the repair work which is being done along the river to prevent the stream from cutting a new channel.

Land Flooded Below City. Along the river below El Paso and along the river was flooded Wednesday night and other lands below the city are expected to be covered by the water if the river continues to rise.

ROAD STANDS WASHING

Where the river washed through the county road a few years ago, about six miles out, and where when the water was at a standstill, an embankment with a rock foundation was constructed. The river is washing against the embankment with some force, and the water is under control. The embankment is protected by a heavy riprap of rock and is therefore safe from the floods. All the willow and brush along the river bank have been cut down and the river bank has been reinforced with wire cables and this has kept the river from encroaching very much on the land.

TENT HOUSES AT DAM SITE MENACED BY THE HIGH WATER

The water was at its highest here at midnight Monday. The river is spreading out about a mile and a half at the extreme lower part of the town and also backing up through drainage channels into the street. No damage has been done as yet, but the water is under control and work is proceeding as usual in the excavation.

DETECTIVE FOR ERECTORS' ASSOCIATION IS INDICTED

Indianapolis, Ind., May 29.—John J. Foster, detective for the National Erectors' association, was indicted by the county grand jury today charged with aiding and abetting the Ryan, president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers. The grand jury failed to indict on the charge of intent to kill, an allegation which was made in a justice of the peace court.

Foster's bond will be set and until after he is rearrested. The case grew from an alleged assault last January, during the federal investigation of the McNamara dynamite case, when it was said that Foster struck Ryan with a revolver in the latter's office.

KEEZE PROPERTY IN DANGER

Keetze's nursery and green house on the west bank of the river a little beyond Courchesne, is partly under water.

A few inches more of a rise and the river will do considerable damage in the vicinity of the smelter in driving Mexicans from their homes and, perhaps, to the embankment of the Santa Fe.
